DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 8-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hepple.

Hepple discloses a scrub brush, which is considered as a weighted scrub brush due to the weight of the motor (76) acting thereon. The brush comprising a brush head (62) as claimed; a plurality of bristles (90,91) as claimed; a weight (76), which is inherently removable positioned within a weight recess as claimed (see Fig. 1); a handle as claimed; a liquid intake port as claimed; a conduit as claimed; a liquid valve as claimed; a trigger as claimed; a liquid distribution manifold as claimed; and a chemical dispenser as claimed (see Fig. 1). The brush would inherently include a chemical valve as claimed; a male support member as claimed (which below the motor 76); and a cantilevered support latch as claimed.

2. Claims 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Besel et al. (hereinafter Besel).

Besel discloses a scrub brush, which is considered as a weighted scrub brush due to the weight of the motor (18) acting thereon. The Besel includes the structure of the weighted brush as claimed, wherein the weight is motor (18) which is inherently removable and the roller is wheel (34) where a user may be pivoted to a forward, inverted position to roll the brush if the user desires to.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-7 are free of the prior art of record.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Duncan et al. discloses another of what is considered as weighted scrub brush.
